Death Cafe

A safe space to talk about death and dying.

At a Death Cafe people, often strangers, gather to eat cake, drink tea and discuss death.

Our objective is to increase awareness of death with a view to helping people make the most of their lives.

A Death Cafe is a group directed discussion of death with no agenda, objectives or themes. It is a discussion group rather than a grief support or counselling session.

The Death Cafe model was developed by Jon Underwood based on the ideas of Bernard Crettaz www.deathcafe.com

Facilitated by
Katy Vigurs from DEAD GOOD CIC

Play with your food: A beginner's guide to Kombucha

Weds 24 April 6-8pm, £12.00

Kombucha is a centuries-old drink that relies on a symbiotic culture of microorganisms to create a gut-supporting, naturally carbonated drink through the process of fermentation. This lively, bubbly tea is all the rage in hipster hotspots and health food shops, but the flavours on offer (not to mention the price per litre!) can be off-putting for many. During this demo and workshop, you will learn the simple steps you need to create your own, customisable Kombucha in your home kitchen. Myth-busting and empowering, you'll leave with a starter culture, a set of instructions, and the confidence you need in order to get brewing right away.

Play with your food: Nectar of the Gods, Mead-making for beginners, £12.00 Weds 22 May 6-8pm

When you think of Mead, do you immediately think of that sickly sweet liqueur that was brought home from a holiday in Northumberland, but has sat in the back of the cupboard ever since? Mead doesn't have to be that way!

Mead can be anything brewed with honey as its primary source of sugar, and everything after that is up to you. You could brew a Dry & Boozy Traditional Mead; bring down the abv for a Crispy Hydromel; add fruits to make a Viking Blood Melomel, or your choice of spices for a Christmas Metheglin – great for gifting.

Mead-making is one of the easiest ways to get into home-brewing, and a great way to preserve seasonal harvest, while supporting your local honey producers. Expect demonstrations, mead-tasting, lots of information and opportunities to ask questions so that you leave with confidence and knowledge to make your own mead at home!

The Story of Skiffle

Seventeen Nineteen, Holy Trinity Church, Church Street East, SR1 2BB
Sat, 1 June, 2024, 18.00 till 21.00

For 2 magical years, from 1956 to 1958, skiffle became the music of young people throughout the country. From the star professionals like Lonnie Donegan and Chas McDevitt through to youth club and coffee bar bands 'having a go', the craze took hold.

Our performance showcases how this simple, acoustic music formed the bedrock of what was to come - the pop explosion of the 60s, launching the careers of The Beatles, The Rolling Stones and many other global superstars.

Hop, Skiffle and Jump play the songs of skiffle, telling the stories behind the personalities, with dancing and photographs, getting the audience involved along the way. A truly unforgettable show for any fan of blues, skiffle and music history.

Hosted at Seventeen Nineteen, a breathtaking venue in the heart of Old Sunderland.

Hop, Skiffle and Jump tell the story of the birth of popular music.

They play the songs from the skiffle craze of the late 50s - singalong, lively and familiar music which will have your feet tapping and your hands clapping. Their style is authentic and pays tribute to the wonderful young people of the period who livened up the coffee bars, village halls, youth clubs and milk bars.

Led by Ken Tonge, they depict skiffle through songs and anecdotes which bring the late 50s music scene to life. With Julie on fiddle, Fred on guitar, Alison on washboard, Jaene on vocals and William on tea chest bass they put on a fantastic show filled with audience participation. Our dancer, Alison, illustrates the music and provides a fantastic percussive sound.

Expect to learn something, expect to be part of the action, expect some excellent singing and playing but, most of all, expect to have fun!
